BOLD DAYLIGHT ROBBERY FROM MARKET STREET STORE

Instead of Taking Empty Case, Men Take One With Dress Goods

The police are looking for the men who paid 25 cents for an empty box and got away with nearly $100 worth of dry goods.

About noon on Wednesday a man entered the store of D. R. Northwick and purchased an empty box for packing purposes and after paying 25 cents went to the rear of the store on Daniel street, with another man and a wagon, where empty boxes are kept and full ones are unloaded. The clerk who generally looks after the sale of boxes was called inside the store and the two men were left alone in the yard. Instead of selecting the box which had been paid for they boldly loaded a full package and quietly drove out of the yard unnoticed.

The box contained between $75 and $100 worth of dress goods which had just arrived from the manufacturers. The robbery was not discovered until late in the afternoon when the police were called in on the case. Nobody appears to know who the men were on the wagon although they were seen going in and out of the road to the store. Several drivers had business in the rear of the block on Wednesday and today the police are looking them all up trying to get a line on the steal.

WATER DEPARTMENT WANTS A BOND ISSUE OF $50,000

Matter Will Be Considered at Meeting of City Council This Evening

The city council contemplates a bond issue of upwards of $50,000 for the water department. It is said that the finance committee is to submit the matter of an issue to the council at the meeting this evening in city hall. The purpose of the issue is to improve the system.

Councilmen Ernest Holmes, John Leary and James A. Rand, who constitute the committee on finance, have been in consultation with Mayor Daniel W. Badger considering the advisability of issuing a bond. Members of the city council together with members of the board of public works, made a trip by automobile over the system Sunday and were given a comprehensive idea of the repairs that are needed to adequately equip the system.

James W. Barrett, a member of the board and superintendent of the water division, attributes the deficiency of money in the water department to the negligence of former city councils and to the former heads of city departments. Mr. Barrett said that the city never paid the department for the use of water in the city buildings and on city properties and that the pumping of water for city uses entailed an enormous expense.

The members asked the city council to appropriate $53,000 in order that the repairs and improvements might be undertaken. The board says that a new standpipe, of a capacity of 1,500,000 gallons is necessary for the storage of water that might be used in time of drought or during a serious fire. Another important extension recommended by the board is of the twelve-inch main from the pumping station at Sherburne springs to the main that is now in position in South street. With the construction of this main the city will have two substantial inlets of water from the springs and an accident to one of the important mains would not deprive the city of its entire supply.

Repairs to the station at Sherburne springs, principally by the addition of a $12,000 outlay at that point. The replacing of the spiral pipe at Beverly brook is also under consideration and the board expects to spend $20,000 in metering water services. By the metering of the city the board expects to increase the revenue, to decrease the use of water and at the same time reduce the cost of pumping.

MYSTERY IN BOSTON'S LATEST MURDER CASE

No Clue to Slayer of Mrs. Lillian Jewar

Boston, May 22.—The mystery surrounding the murder of Mrs. Lillian Jewar, formerly of Montreal, who was found strangled in her apartment in the South End probably on Saturday, was still far from solved by the police today. Several clues were run down yesterday without any tangible results, including the examination of Charles W. Hoppins, a waiter, and his release last night from detention.

Several of the police inspectors pointed out today that the circumstances surrounding the discovery of Mrs. Jewar's body yesterday resembled closely those attending the murder of Laura Chamberlain in a water front hotel last September. Both women were seen during the evening in various resorts, but no clue could be discovered that would lead to the identification of their companions in the room where the bodies were subsequently discovered.

Hopping told the police last night that he called at Mrs. Jewar's apartment on Saturday night, but could not get in so he left a note under the door. The note was found as indicated. Two women who were examined today stated that they accompanied

Mrs. Jewar to one of the subway stations late Friday night, and so far as known, this was the last time she was seen alive. They said that Mrs. Jewar had spent part of the evening with them in a Sudbury street saloon, but that she entered the subway station alone.

Other tenants of the apartment house where Mrs. Jewar lived knew little of her.

"MILLIONAIRE TRAMP" ARRIVES IN PORTSMOUTH

Dr. Ridder Will Speak On Market Square

Dr. Ben Ridder, often called "the millionaire tramp," arrived in Portsmouth this Thursday morning for a several days' visit and will speak on Market square this evening.

Dr. Ben dropped into the Herald office this morning for a talk. He is an interesting man, with an excellent education, and talks enterprisingly of his travels and of books.

Found on the doorstep of the present leader of the Danish parliament, Dr. Ridder was adopted, reared by him and received his M. D., LL. D. and D. D. degrees from the University of Copenhagen.

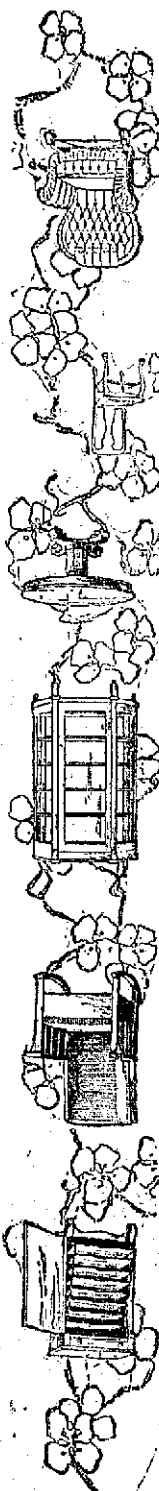

He came to this country 14 years ago and cast his lot with the rovers of the country. In 12 years he has paid $1.38 for carriage. He has been arrested 665 times for various reasons. He is interested in prisons and has visited 2999.

OUTLOOK FOR DOVER SHOE CONCERN GLOOMY

Employees Are Seeking Work In Other Places

The recent attachment of $12,000 to $15,000 placed against the Luddy Shoe Manufacturing company at Dover is bringing much gloom to the employees of the factory and at present the outlook is not very encouraging. Many of the old employees are getting out of Dover and locating in Lynn, Springfield, Me., and at other places. If a settlement is not perfected when the writs are returned in September, the future is very uncertain. The plant is one of the best in the state, and its loss would be a hard blow for Dover.

Two demonstrations at Benfield's this week—Maplelene for flavoring. Have you tried it?—giving that rich maple flavor to feelings and frostings, etc. Cottolene for shortening. No animal fat. Call and try the pretty cooking with Cottolene.

CATHOLIC UNION AND ELKS PLAY A SCORELESS GAME

Both Teams Played Great Ball--A Pitchers Battle With Odds About Even.

The Catholic Union and the Elks is hard indeed to venture an opinion as to the champion of the league. Summed up all of the six teams are very evenly matched and the outlook for some sensational baseball is great.

All of the games this week have been pitchers battles and with the exception of the Riversides all of the teams have dug up excellent pitchers, with the odds in favor of Trayers of the Knights of Columbus, but he loses some of his efficiency through the lack of a first class catcher for that team.

The game last evening was well played and only two errors were charged, one each for the teams. It was a pitchers battle, and there was very little difference in the two slab artists. Sorrette for the Elks allowed but two hits and struck out eight men, but granted one free pass.

INCREASE IN VALUATION AND DECREASE OF TAX

In State a Result of New Tax Law.

Returns of tax valuations and rates are now coming to the office of the tax commission at Concord, but enough have not been received as yet to permit of a tabulation to show how the orders to the boards of selectmen and assessors to enforce all the tax laws of the state have worked out.

According to a statement made by Judge William B. Fellows, secretary of the board, the returns to date indicate a general increase in valuation in the towns reporting and corresponding decreases in the tax rate.

It will be several weeks yet before the board can get the figures showing approximately the general increase in valuations and will be able to start the work of equalization under the provisions of the law creating the commission.

In Portsmouth the board of assessors is making good progress in tabulating the inventory blanks and in working out the assessment but it will be some time before they will be able to announce the tax rate for the present year by reason of the enormous mass of detail they are called upon to consider through the general disclosure of property and the necessity of a reappraisal in a majority of cases.

A BOSTON GIRL'S BUDGET

Colors of Lilac Time in Boston's Famous Arnold Arboretum—A Flower Celebrated by Many Poets—Bay State Suffragists Invade Ohio—"Girls" Employed by the City of Cambridge Need Not Tell Their Ages, Says Chivalrous Mayor Barry—Belz Pratt's Statuary at Last Installed Before the Hub's Public Library.

BOSTON, May 23.—Chivalrous Mayor Barry of Cambridge deserves the flanking of all the "girls" who for one reason or another desire to keep their ages from the common knowledge. A woman's age, he has pointed out in voting an order providing for the publication of a booklet which would contain the names, ages, nationalities and compensation of all city employees, is the one detail of her existence which is invaluable and which she should not be asked to state by anyone. Isn't he the real nice man?

The Presidential campaign is not the only excitement in the state of Ohio at the present writing, for a lively group of Massachusetts suffragists, including Mrs. Susan W. Fitzgerald, Miss Margaret Foley, Mrs. Mary Hutchinson Page and several other leaders in the movement are helping all they can to make Ohio the seventh suffrage state, and the first state east of the Mississippi. Three of the Boston women are spending fourteen hours a day posting votes for women bills and addressing the crowds that collect around them. And that they are expert bill posters is admitted by eye witnesses, who have watched their operations in various Ohio cities. And speaking of Ohio, a current journal recalls the story of the mariners of England who pulled their jolly boat around under the stern of the warship of that name when she was in British waters to see what the name might be, and one was overheard to say to the other, "Hi sish, BHL, wot d'yer think o' this? There's a he, and a haich, and a hi and a ho. Wot a 'ell of a name!" On another occasion Bishop Jagger of Ohio was in a Swiss resort and overheard several English ladies discussing the new arrivals. One remarked, "Did any notable persons come tonight?" Only one sir, so far as I am aware of," the Lord Bishop of O-yo, one of the Sandwich Islands, I imagine."

Lively interest was aroused in Copley Square on Monday morning when the first of the two bronze figures executed by Bela L. Pratt for the public library was unostentatiously and without ceremony unveiled to the public gaze. The gauze cages which for weeks surrounded the workmen preparing the base for the statue was removed, revealing the seated figure of a woman holding a sphere in her hand and representing "Science." Work was still progressing on the foundations for the figure of "Art" while curious groups gathered about the finished figure. A slight feeling of regret was held by many that works of so notable a character and which have been awaited with such interest by the public should not have been unveiled with appropriate ceremony, and considerable surprise greeted the first bronze lady on her emergence from the shrouding

VANDALS ARE DESTROYING TREES

One of the worst acts of vandalism perpetrated in this city for a long time happened on Woodbury Avenue on Saturday or Sunday night. Several of the handsome maple trees, which line the avenue, were girdled and stripped of the bark, and at least one of the trees is ruined, and others may not respond to treatment.

In game cases the trees, which are seventeen years old, had been cut with a knife so that a ring was formed about the trunk. In one case the vandals had completely stripped the bark off the tree from three feet to the ground, so that the tree will die.

Mayor Badger, who lives near here, discovered the damage and with the neighbors made every effort to treat the trees so as to save them. The police have been notified and they think that it is the work of boys. If caught they should be made an example of, for this is the most contemptible kind of vandalism.

sheet of canvas. Boston at large, is pleased that at least the uninteresting blocks of granite in front of the public library have been replaced by fitting and harmonious works of art which, instead of being obtrusive as feared in some quarters, are agreeable and impressive from whatever point of view.

The lilac path in Harvard's Arboretum at Forest Hills is the mecca of thousands these late May and early June days. The glorious blooms in the museum of living trees range in hue from the purest white to hot passionate tints that seem almost as in Swinburne's line "stained as with wine and made bloody"; but the whole mass of them fuses into what Thoreau once called "a tender, civil, cheerful color," that is about as warm as the grey-green of the foliage is cool. It is no ordinary collection which furnishes the most spectacular event of the year in the arboretum. Years ago it achieved the distinction of being the largest group of lilac varieties in the world, and each season for some years past has seen enlargement. The slopes of the roof of the world have been ransacked for rare and beautiful forms of blue to transplant in this modern garden of Eden. Additions are constantly being made to this famous collection which has already made possible the beautiful lilac path in the arboretum, the delight not only of Boston but of all eastern Massachusetts. The recent explorations of Mr. E. H. Wilson in China have materially increased the number of lilacs. The great value of this lilac group at the Arnold arboretum in the eyes of students of botany and horticulture consists of course not only in the fact that it is being set out in such a way that the 300 or more species and varieties represented will all be permanent; that they cannot in any case revert to a common type. A century hence each shrub now planted will be represented by descendants that have retained faithfully every characteristic of their ancestry. This desirable result is being accomplished simply by avoidance of grafting. This is to say, every shrub is raised entirely on its own stock—a difficult, slow and expensive process but the only one that is scientifically correct. The finished product, if one may so speak of this lilac industry, appears in the long row of shrubs and trees that borders one side of the driveway in the arboretum. Here on one side of the pathway next to the road you will see the smaller shrubs; on the other side those lilacs for the most part that rise to a height of from 15 to 30 feet and that are more worthy of the name of trees. The size of the specimens in the latter class is indeed to most visitors one of the surprising facts about the collection, for there are lilacs in the arboretum with trunks that are 15 to 18 inches through. One of the oldest and most famous of these was given to the arboretum nearly 40 years ago by President Clark of the Massachusetts Agricultural college at Amherst. Others are direct importations from China, where, in the mountains about Peking, the lilacs grow to the bigness of many trees.

SUFFRAGETTES SENTENCED

London, May 23.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette leader and Mr. and Mrs. Ethel Lawrence, joint editors of Votes for Women were all found guilty at the Old Bailey sessions today and each sentenced to nine months' imprisonment, on the charge of conspiracy and inciting their followers to malicious damage to property.

The jury in giving its verdict of guilty accompanied it with a recommendation that leniency should be shown to the prisoners and Justice Coleridge, in delivering judgment took this into consideration.

The two women in the dock were pathetic figures when the verdict of guilty was brought in by the jury. Mrs. Pankhurst clung to the edge of the prisoner's enclosure, trembling visibly and pleaded to be treated as a first-class misdemeanant.

Mrs. Ethel Lawrence, raising both hands in the attitude of prayer, swayed as she said:

"May God defend us, as our cause is just."

The prisoners were all sentenced to be confined in the second division, which does not involve hard labor.

CIRCUS DAY

May 29 Marks the Coming of the John H. Sparks World's Famous Shows to Portsmouth, Giving Two Performances.

Circus day dawns with an indefinable stir in the air that sets the small boy's heart to beating faster, and awakens pleasant memories in the minds of the gray beards who have not forgotten childhood's happy days.

The people of this city and community will undoubtedly be treated to a tremendous surprise in the above show, as reports have it that it is not only tripled in size this season, but that it still retains those features that made it such a welcome visitor in years, viz., its freedom from all semblance of gamblers and fakirs, the high-class moral entertainment afforded and its honorable methods of doing business.

John H. Sparks and his managerial associates have not only ventured into a field of greater endeavor but, in so doing, it is said, have outdistanced veteran rivals in a manner that leaves nothing to the imagination with the additional telling advantage of being tripled in size. All new in the matter of equipment and presentation, and still retaining the wonderful trained wild animal exhibition, which has done much to cause this show to become famous, it is the most remarkable amusement enterprise of its kind in the world today.

The big noon day parade, while a feature of marvelous beauty and enormous expense is but a slight reminder of the pomp, opulence and bewilderling brilliancy to be witnessed under the mammoth tents during the exhibitions. In other words the show is not all on the streets.

while Kabelka for the C. U., allowed three hits and eight strikeouts and no passes. Both pitchers played a fine fielding game, Sorette having six assists and Kabelka three. Both teams gave the pitchers excellent support, as far as they were called up, but the pitchers had the bulk of the work.

The Catholic Union got three men as far as first, two reaching third. The nearest they came to scoring was in the fourth, when Walter Lynskey drew a base on balls, and spoke second and third, but the next two men struck out and he was thrown out trying to steal home. The Elks got two men on first base and only one as far as second. Each team had but seventeen men take n

The Elks were out in order, Bruce and Hanson fanning and Swasey, Kabelka to Timmons.

Second Inning.
Hoffman opened with a single and stole second, but he remained there as M. Timmons sent a pop fly to Esterbrook and Hennessey and Gerth were out on strikes.

For the Elks, Cragen opened with a single and went to second on Bunkers' sacrifice hit, but there was nothing doing, Newick being out on a fly to Kabelka and Esterbrook fanned.

The C. U. got one man on in this inning, after Fredericks had fanned, Kabelka pushed out a two-base hit and went to third on Sorette's bad throw. Timmons struck but Tom Lynskey was thrown out at first.

For the Elks Sorette struck out, Poole singled and went to second on Kabelka's wild throw to first. Bruce was out, Hoffman to Timmons and Hanson by the same route.

Fourth Inning.
Walter Lynskey drew the only pass of the game and stole second and then went to third on Poole's bad throw. Hoffman struck out and Lynskey attempted to steal home but he was run down, and Timmons struck out.

The Elks were out in order. Swasey, Kabelka to Timmons, Cragen, Hennessey to Timmons and Bunker struck out.

Fifth Inning.
There were but three men up for the C. U. in the fifth, Hennessey was thrown out at first by Sorette, Gerth struck out and Poole dropped the ball, but recovered in time to get him at first, and Fredericks, Sorette to Bunker.

The Elks made short work of their half, Newick, Esterbrook and Sorette striking out.

As it was dark, Umpire Sheridan called the game.

Detroit Ball Players Viewing the Game From the Outside; Strike
Now Over, Men Resume Play

Washington, May 23.—The big base ball strike is at an end, and the entire Detroit team, with the exception of Ty Cobb, the cause of all the trouble, are back in the game ready to finish out the season. The players who stuck by Cobb when he was laid off for punching a New York spectator who insulted him and refused to pay after he was punished reached an agreement the other day with President Navin of their club and Ben Johnson, president of the American league. It was a compromise and substantially on these terms: Cobb is to be reinstated and take his place in the Detroit outfield within a very short time, perhaps two weeks—at least no longer than may be necessary to uphold the dignity of the American League president. The striking athletes personally are not to suffer the fines which the league will inflict upon them. A definite arrangement is to be made whereby a ball player need not be compelled to tolerate vile abuse from spectators who may be aggrieved against him or may have bets on the opposing club. This arangement will either be a rule compelling the owners of the various clubs to have their grand stands guarded by uniformed officers who will eject offenders or a rule compelling the umpires to cause the throwing out of the obnoxious fan. A picture shows the Detroit players talking to one of the semi-professionals who took their places in the game against Philadelphia on Saturday. The men from left to right are Jones, Stanage, Vitti, Onslow and Mullin.

The P. A. C. and the Riversides will play this evening, and a good game is expected. Both have been defeated this week. Sperry Locke will probably be in the box for the Champions and Able will be the star artist for the Kittery team.

RAILROAD NOTES

John K. Hall, for many years general agent of the Boston and Maine road at Nashua has retired and the appointment of Frank Robinson to fill the vacancy is announced. Both will be in effect June 1.

John Bourke, assistant superintendent Boston and Maine Southern division, has leased a cottage on Contoocook river at West Concord for the summer.

The Boston and Maine has begun a parlor car service between Boston and Mt. Desert Ferry, Me., on trains leaving and arriving at North station at 9 a. m., and 9:55 p. m.

The general superintendent and chief engineer of the Boston and Maine road have ordered the removal of all clearance posts on the system. A clearance post is set at the junction of a siding with the main line to indicate how close cars can be left with safety. The order of removal says that they are of no use, and are a positive source of danger, many accidents having resulted by trainmen and employees falling over them in the dark.

The Boston and Maine officials are busy perfecting the time tables for the summer season, that go in effect next month. It is stated that many changes will be made in the schedule effecting the trains of the Portland division that run via Portsmouth, owing to the improvements at Lynn and the Salem tunnel.

The order of Railway Trainmen grievance committee is still in session with the officials of the Boston and Maine railroad at Boston, relative to a new working schedule. It is understood that it is not a matter of wages with the men so much as better working conditions.

STUDENTS ARE ENJOYING THEIR CAMP LIFE

Norwich University Men Making the Most of Outdoor Life

Northfield, Vt., May 22.—The students of Norwich university here are all in camp comfortably settled and enjoying it as much as possible. No more cases of smallpox have developed and the situation is considered very favorable by all the students and faculty. Recitations began today for the first time for a week. All the professors have moved upon the hill and are living in tents on the campus with the students.

The food question, for a time a troubling one, has been favorably settled and the routine work will continue until the end of the quarantine, June 6.

The buildings have all been inspected by Dr. C. F. Houghton of Brattleboro, secretary of the state board of health, and were thoroughly fumigated by him last night. The camp was inspected also by Maj. G. H. Wilson, commander of the United States hospital corps at Fort Sherman Allen.

The students are drilling afternoons and spending the evenings in various ways before camp fires listening to band concerts given by the University band, and swapping tales. The camp is one of the prettiest ever pitched in this state. It is located on the campus of the university which is on the top of a steep hill. The company streets are laid out north and south with lawns and cook tents crossing them. The officers and faculty tents are also in rows on the north end of the campus. The pretty scene is watched from a distance by many who admire it much. The guards marching up and down armed with guns and bayonets make a picture all the more picturesque.

All New Hampshire men are well.

NEW VAUDEVILLE TODAY

This afternoon at Music hall the vaudeville consisted of two good acts. Princess Wanata sang Indian songs; this number was a pleasing one and a novelty in the singing line.

The Goodwin Brothers in their novelty whistling sketch made a good hit. His act is considerably out of the ordinary and the Goodwin Brothers are surely some whistlers.

The pictures include "The Fortunes of a Composer," the story of a man who leaves his family in America and goes to Paris to make a fortune with his musical companions. He has a hard time of it and his family at home have to struggle to make a living. The man gets in such hard straits that he partially loses his mind. His compositions are finally accepted, but the letter addressed to him at Paris is returned with the information, "Reported dead." His family receive the money for his compositions. Hearing one of them played refreshes his memory and he returns to America and finds his family gone. He accidentally comes across them, but they fail to recognize him.

An interesting comic picture is "Gay Time in Jacksonville, Fla." Other pictures include, "The Rivals," "The Hero" and "Lulu's Anarchist."

About the Camel.

In a school in the South of Ireland a schoolboy of tender years is said to have produced the following essay on the camel:

"The camel is a sheep of the desert. It is called a bacteria because it has a hump on its back. The camel is very patient, and will lie down and die without a groan, but when it is angry it gets its back up, which is called taking the hump. The shepherds of camels is called Araba. When they live in towns they are called great Arabs. When the camel goes on a journey it drinks as much as it can to last for many days. Such animals are called acedquicks. Those that cannot carry enough are called inebrates."

SUFFRAGE NOTES.

In her recent speech at Exeter, Mary Johnston told of her conversation with a gentleman who was an anti-suffragist. Speaking to this distinguished author, he said, "Madam, until woman achieves intellectual equality with man, and he cannot look for political equality." He went on to say that woman was unfitted to exercise political rights, because she had "too much sentiment" and put "her heart into things too much." Then as they talked on about general political conditions he deplored the existing state of things, and concluded, "Politics has become a hard business, and a ruthless game. Things will never be better until we learn to put more sentiment, more heart into our political life!"

Miss Johnston deplored the so-called argument for the indirect influence of women in politics. In all discussions of the faults of woman, her indictment is always put first. This trait in woman's character the anti-suffragist recalls to a virtuous and seeks to foster. "I do not know," said Miss Johnston, "which is the more degraded by this method, the enjurer or the enjoeled." The anti-suffragist is, in the last analysis, a pessimist, the suffragist an indomitable optimist. One gazes forever into the past, fears the present, doubts the hope of the future. The other draws inspiration from the past, ever reconstructs in the present, and presses forward, inspired by the vision of the future, whose foundation she is glad to have some small part in building.

ROOSEVELT WILL GET 32 DELEGATES IN OHIO

Columbus, O., May 22.—Nearly complete returns from yesterday's Ohio Presidential preference primary, in hand at noon today, indicate that Col. Roosevelt won 32 of 42 delegates to the Republican National convention, selected in Congressional Districts, and that President Taft was given 10 district delegates, or slightly less than a third of the total number named.

On the Democratic ticket Gov. Harmon is believed to have won by a larger percentage than Col. Roosevelt, being credited with 35 district delegates as against seven for Gov. Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey.

Although President Taft secured only 19 out of the 42 delegates, the Taft-Roosevelt fight in Ohio is not finished, but will be carried into the State Republican convention, which, on June 3, will select six delegates-at-large to the National convention.

Taft May Get State Delegates. Of a total of less than 1000 delegates to the State convention, a large portion of whom also were named yesterday to sit in the district returns indicate that President Taft has nearly a sufficient number to control. This may give the Taft managers the six delegates-at-large to be named by the State convention and probably will make the President's total 19, just an even third of the Ohio delegation of 48 members which will attend the Chicago convention.

Gov. Harmon, on the Democratic ticket, unlike Roosevelt, will not be forced to make a further fight for delegates-at-large, as the Democratic call specifies that the winner of the Presidential preference primary shall name his own delegates-at-large.

It will be impossible before night to get an accurate list of totals in the various districts on the Democratic Presidential preference, but it is clear that Gov. Harmon has won over Wilson by a large plurality. No two lists of figures in this connection, obtainable today, agree.

Amplified returns in the Republican contest show that Senator L.

Pollette polled a heavy vote in several counties, and it is possible that final results will show that he ran second to Col. Roosevelt in a number of counties, where Mr. Taft dropped down to third place on the ticket.

The Taft managers declared that this occurred only in Democratic counties, where Democrats voted the Republican ticket. Mr. Bryan and Speaker Champ Clark, although their names were not on the ballot, got a small fraction of the total vote cast, but it seems doubtful if the combined Bryan-Clark vote had any considerable result on the outcome of the Harmon-Wilson fight.

The additional congressmen to whom Ohio is entitled as a result of the last census will be selected at large, and will be named by each party at their State convention in June.

Statement by Chairman Brown. Walter F. Brown, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, this afternoon issued the following statement:

"Out of the 42 National delegates apportioned to Ohio's 21 Congressional districts Col. Roosevelt has elected 30 beyond any question and probably has elected 32. In the State the Roosevelt delegates have a popular majority of from 25,000 to 35,000. This result makes Mr. Taft's nomination impossible. Just as certainly it makes impossible the nomination of any of the men who have been identified with the President in the contest."

"I am pleased with the result so far," said Gov. Harmon today, when he returned to the executive office from his home in Cincinnati, but I want to know more about it before I make a statement."

Rural Vote Cast Was Light.

The rural vote throughout the State was light, as the farmers, whose work had been retarded by the weather, preferred to put in their crops to going to the polls.

Senator La Follette secured his heaviest vote in the 21st Congressional district, where he polled 4100 votes. In Fulton County La Follette secured more votes than President Taft. Of the 14 counties which have so far reported as carried by President Taft, one-half are Democratic strongholds, where the Republican vote was very light.

The exact vote in the Democratic preferential contest is not known, but reports from 73 precincts out of 192 in the State indicate that Harmon has received 17,379 votes in Wilson's 10,779 in those precincts, while Clark received 170 and Bryan 155.

Adams County, where more than 1500 voters were disfranchised a year ago for selling their votes, gave Col. Roosevelt a majority of nearly 200.

President Taft carried his home districts, the first and the second. Gov. Harmon, who lives in the same city with the President—Cincinnati, carried the 2d District, but the first is still in doubt. The returns show that Gov. Wilson carried the 2d, 20th and 21st Districts.

In the 3d District, C. W. Folkert was elected as a Roosevelt delegate and D. W. Allaman as a Taft delegate. In the 15th District, D. L. Melick was named as Roosevelt delegate and Frank Ransbottom as Taft delegate.

"I suffered habitually from constipation. Doan's Regulets relieved and strengthened the bowels, so that they have been regular ever since."

METHODISTS ELECT TWO BISHOPS

Minneapolis, Minn., May 21.—Dr. T. F. Henderson of Brooklyn and W. O. Shepard of Chicago are the new bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Conference elected on the eleventh ballot. Dr. Henderson received 563 and Dr. Shepard 532. Necessary to elect, 524. The election of two men on this ballot came as somewhat of a surprise, although after the result of the tenth ballot was announced, it was predicted by the delegates that Dr. Henderson would be elected. Dr. Henderson is a native of New York, was elected on the first ballot, making three chosen of the eight to be elected.

Dr. R. E. Jones (Negro) of New Orleans, who received 184 votes on the last ballot withdrew his name.

Dr. Henderson is forty-four years of age, and will be the youngest member of the board of bishops. He is a graduate of Wesleyan University of Connecticut and Drew Theological Seminary and is pastor of the Hansen Place Church, Brooklyn, N. Y. Dr. Shepard is a graduate of DePaul University, has been prominent in the work of Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill., and at present is district superintendent of the Rock River Conference.

Practically all of the session yesterday was given over to a discussion of reports of committees. The conference agreed to one change in the church rules, whereby the presidents of one woman's home and one woman's foreign mission society were permitted voices in the district conference; the committee also recommended that a foot note to the discipline be added, permitting each church to decide whether individual or single communion cups should be used.

"I AM IN DESPAIR OVER IT."

Senator Gallinger Says Crane Had Assurances of Both Factions of Republicans He Wouldn't Be Up-posed.

Washington, May 23.—Tears came to the eyes of Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire, member of Senator Crane's committee on rules, one of the Senate veterans and the staunchest of Republicans, when he spoke of the announcement of Mr. Crane's retirement.

"I was one of the few who knew that it was coming," he said, "and I am in despair over it. There was no trouble in the State over his election, I know for sure. He had the assurance of both factions of Republicans in the State that there would be no opposition. Of course all of us here wanted him to remain in the Senate."

"But he has large business interests and he felt that he did not care to remain here with political conditions here and throughout the country in such a turmoil. I respect his wishes in the matter and I am in despair over his leaving."

"I have known him and his work in the Senate and in Republican ranks for a long time, and his withdrawal is therefore deeply personal to me."

Senator Knute Nelson of Minnesota, chairman of the Senate Committee on Commerce, of which Mr. Crane is a member, said: "I was sorry to read the announcement, because Mr. Crane is a good man in the Senate. He has been on the Committee on Commerce only a short time, but I have served with him on the Committee on Rules and know his value as a legislator. He is a good man and will be missed."

Evolution of Chuzzlewit. The selection of a title was always one of Dickens' first anxieties when he was beginning a new book. The now familiar name of Chuzzlewit went through a curious process of evolution. First it was Sweezledon, then Sweezleback, then Sweezleway. None of these would do. The Sweezle then became Chuzzle, and there was a new series of Chuzzleletoe, Chuzzleleby, Chuzzlewig, and finally Chuzzlewit.—How Dickens Found His Names.

Outdoor Game. A splendid way to get children out of doors is to get them interested in playing "architect." A stony vacant lot or an open field is the playground, and the children vie with one another in gathering large pebbles, with them making "life-size" bungalow plans upon the ground. This done, the pebble plans become make-believe houses for the little folks to play in. Children seem to keep up interest in this simple game for months.

Danger in Excessive Fatigue. Everybody understands the danger of catching cold if you have been perspiring freely or have on wet clothes. But very few people know that you are especially liable to catch cold when you are tired. "Additional protection," writes Doctor Goldsberg, "is needed by the body when tired, for in such a state colds may be taken as easily as when sweating or through wet garments."

Child's Teeth. An excellent tooth powder for the elder children of the nursery brood is made of one ounce of precipitated chalk, half an ounce of powdered borax and a quarter of an ounce each of powdered myrrh and powdered orris root. The tiny child with teeth should have a soft toothbrush and plain water should be used.

Possible Derivation. "Words are terribly funny things, aren't they," said Mrs. Jones. "Take the word gargle—how on earth do you suppose they ever got that?" "Very simple, my dear," said Mr. Jones. "Just look at yourself in the glass sometime when you gargle, and then look at a gargyle, and you'll see."—Harper's Weekly.

Happy Thought! Why Not Oranges? Abby, the littlest girl of the family, was seated at the breakfast table one morning. As usual, eggs were served. Either she was not hungry or she had grown tired of the inevitable bill of fare, for very earnestly and soberly she remarked, "I do wish hens would lay something besides eggs."—Youth's Companion.

World's Good Things For All. Along all our pathways sweet flowers are blossoming. If we will only stop to pluck them and smell their fragrance, in every meadow birds are warbling, calling to their mates and soaring into the blue, if we only stop our grumbling long enough to hear them.—Minot J. Savage, D. D.

Basis of Good Manners. The formation of good manners is unquestionably tact. And the foundation of tact is consideration. To train your child therefore, into the highest culture of good manners begin early to teach him consideration for others. This will develop later into the very finest kind of tact.

Where Better Employed? Store Proprietor (hiring a new clerk)—"You know how to work a cash register?" "Yes, sir; I was one of the first to get on to it. I can work anything from a taxicab to a gun slot, but they watch you closer nowadays."—Satire.

Tip for Farmers. Percy Noodles says he knew a man who sent two dollars to Augusta, Me., for a recipe "How to make a hen lay two eggs per day," and got an answer advising him to sprinkle her tail with blood squeezed out of a turnip.—Dallas News.

The Art of It. Blobs—"You say skin can steal your money and then by clever words make you think he did you a favor by taking it? What is he, a hypnotist?" Blobs—"No, a politician."—Philadelphia Record.

Next Thing to It. Gibbs—"One gets no diplomas in the school of experience." Dibbs—"I don't know; the marriage certificate comes pretty near being one."—Boston Transcript.
